Died Suddenly.

William I. Buchanan, of Buffalo, member the United States diplomatic service and former Minister to the Argentine Republic and Panama, died in London. He was found in a dying condition near the American Embassy. He died on the way to the hospital. The cause of his death is not known, but it is supposed that it resulted from heart disease or apoplexy.

Republicans Nominate at Last.

The City Republican Committee declared themselves into a mass convention on Saturday night by electing Stamps Moore, chairman and W. A. Thomason, secretary. The following candidates were nominated for city offices:

For Mayor—J. W. Larkin; Police Judge—C. J. Barnes; Chief of Police—Stamps Moore; Councilman in third ward—James C. O. Wilmoth.

The Republican County Committee also met in mass convention Saturday with C. O. Wilmoth as Chairman and W. A. Thomason as Secretary, and made the following nominations for Magistrate throughout the county: Clintonville precinct, S. L. Weathers; Hutchison, J. E. Gray; Ruddells Mills, Porter Jett; North Middletown, W. A. Thomason; Millersburg, M. H. Current; Centerville, Joseph Houston, Jr.; Little Rock, Lee Deavers.

All of the above have been certified to in the proper way to County Clerk Pearce. Paton to place on the ballots as candidates under the log cabin.

It took them a mighty long time to get the consent of somebody to run on the Republican ticket, but they at last found "lambas for the slaughter." At the first convention (?) they nominated Mr. J. W. Bacon for Mayor, but he took our advice and withdrew. "G's" all right, except his politics and is "nobody's fool," he could see the hand writing on the wall "Hinton wins by 200," and he shied off the track at the last minute.

Grant Overby was also nominated by that first convention and was a candidate for two days before he realized he was running on the Republican ticket, and then "flew the coop" in a hurry. This left things mixed a little and these wily and cute politicians got busy again—reminded you of a lot of bird dogs in a field where birds were scarce, but had probably roosted there few nights previous. Then they finally found the "lambas," the first is Larkin for Mayor. When "Uncle" John T. gets through with him he can carry the mail to perfection for "Uncle Sam." Just wait and see.

C. J. Barnes for Police Judge, the man from Virginia, who has been trying to break into office since landing in our midst. Well, it is about time for the night riders to appear and Barnes won't be much trouble to us.

Then comes the Apollo, "Reubenstein" Moore for Chief of Police. His valet, to carry his "big stick" has not yet been named by the committee.

James Shea may get some votes in third ward for councilman if his groceries last until after election day.

Now "little" Charlie Wilmoth is to be pitied, for Earlywine has bumped him enough, and this Democratic jolt he will get, we are afraid will put him out altogether.

Poor misguided boys, we feel sorry for you, but it can't be helped. It will be noticed above that the Republicans nominated a candidate for Magistrate in every precinct in county except Paris. They tackled Uncle Lan once and didn't care to bother him the second time.

Miss Robbins Nominated.

The Democrats of Bourbon met Saturday afternoon at the court house in delegate convention and nominated Miss Mabel Robbins as the candidate for the office of County School Superintendent, made vacant by the death of the late F. L. McChesney, who was a candidate for re-election.

The result of the precinct conventions on Friday in which Miss Robbins secured a majority of 32 of the delegates appointed, over Miss Macie Talbott, her only opponent, eliminated all questions of a contest in Saturday's convention.

Judge Harmon Stitt was made temporary chairman, and Pearce Paton was elected secretary of the convention. On motion the temporary organization was made permanent. Committees on organization, credentials and resolutions were then appointed.

The committee on credentials reported no contests, while that on resolutions reported that it was the sense of the convention that Miss Mabel Robbins be declared the nominee of the Democratic party for the office of superintendent of the public schools of the county and that her name be so certified to the clerk of the Bourbon county. There being no objection to the resolution it was put before the convention and carried unanimously. Miss Robbins, the nominee, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Robbins, of Little Rock precinct, and is an attractive and accomplished young woman. She has been appointed by Judge Dandon to fill out the unexpired term of the late F. L. McChesney.

As a pupil in the public schools Miss Robbins was an unusually bright girl. She later took a year's course under Prof. E. M. Costello, of the Paris Academy, after which she entered North Middletown Classical and Business College. At the age of nineteen she was granted a teacher's certificate and taught for two years in the county schools. She then stood an examination for a State certificate under Superintendent Fuqua. She is qualified in every way to fill the office of County Superintendent, and we predict will make one of the best that ever held the office in this county.

"Many interesting stories are told of Bishop Wilmer of Alabama, who was noted for his wit and sharp repartee," said a clergyman. "A story which is considered characteristic of the man was told by a Virginia minister:

"When Bishop Wilmer was rector of the little Protestant Episcopal church at Upperville, Va., he was much worried by the nonattendance at service on Sundays of the majority of the young men of the community. On inquiry he found that instead of going to church they were in the habit of playing marbles for stakes. Marbles in those days, it must be remembered, was a much more serious game than it is now, occupying much the same position in the realm of sports as do billiards and pool in these days.

"Bishop Wilmer, then a parson not well known, determined to break up this practice. He himself had been an expert marble player in his boyhood. Accordingly one Saturday he came across a number of the young men engaged in a game. The good bishop asked several questions and finally challenged the lot to play him for 'keeps.' They readily consented.

"Much to their astonishment, the young minister won steadily, and soon they had to go to the stores to replenish their stock. Toward the close of the afternoon Mr. Wilmer had won every marble in the town of Upperville. Putting his 'winnings' in a bag, he remarked as he walked away: 'Now, gentlemen, since you can't play marbles tomorrow I hope to see you all at church.' And he did."—Washington Herald.

Humiliating.

A contributor to the columns of the Louisville Times, commenting upon the most recent eccentricity of Governor Augustus E. Willson, says: "We can excuse the extraordinary grammatical construction of Governor Willson's sentences, and excuse a great many things which he does that do not actually involve the public welfare within our own midst, but it is difficult to excuse official action which misrepresents the State of Kentucky and invites the citizen to individual violence in lieu of the enforcement of the laws of the commonwealth. As a matter of fact, the whole attitude of the Governor with regard to the night rider has been futile and in many respects lacking in reasonable judgment. The expenditure of $200,000 to suppress the so-called night-riding has been without effect, and an effort has been made to punish the individual citizen for being obliged to take the law in his own hands, when one fourth of the expenditure in prosecution of trusts which have compelled such individual action would have remedied the evils of which our citizens complain. To advertise an invitation to personal violence, with assurances in advance of Executive pardon; indiscriminate use of pardoning power, the making of an address at the American Association of Lawyers which dwells entirely upon the things that are not creditable in our own commonwealth, instead of discussing the question of law appertaining to the general interests of the country are all matters so serious, and in some respects so humiliating, as to compel the notice of Kentuckians."

Show This to Your Republican Neighbor.

In the making of a tariff law, one would naturally suppose that those least able to bear the burdens of taxation would not be discriminated against in favor of those best able to pay the tax involved in any tariff levy. But what are the facts?

The man who imports $1,000 worth of diamonds pays a tax of but $100—10 per cent. If he imported a thousand shirts worth a dollar each he would have to leave at the customs house and tack onto his selling prices $601.60—60.16 per cent.

If he decided that he would bring in $1,000 worth of champagne, one of the items upon which there is a large increase, the tax levied by the tariff is $500. If he brought in $1,000 worth of blankets he would pay a tariff tax of $1,645.42.

If he brought in $1,000 worth of paintings and statuary, all he would have to pay as customs duties would be $200, but if it were sugar he would pay $788.70 tax on $1,000 worth.

If he brought in $1,000 worth of jewelry he would have to pay $600 tariff tax, but if he brought in $1,000 worth of wool dress goods he would pay $1,050.92 tariff.

If he imported a $5,000 automobile the tariff takers would relieve him of $2,250. If it were $5,000 worth of yarns the tariff tax would be $6,960.

If the importation were $5,000 worth of furs the tariff tax would be $1,650 but if it were $5,000 worth of clothing that tax would be $4,330.

If some New York millionaire brings in a $100,000 ocean-going yacht the tariff would be $35,000, but if the importation were stockings the tariff collected would be $87,950.

"Follow The Line of Enforcement."

In an address at Sacramento, Cal., President Taft said: "We have had evils growing out of our prosperity. Men who have seized power by means of accumulation of wealth and its use in methods that are not legal and can not be approved, by way of monopoly and otherwise. But the difficulty is that whenever everybody is prosperous, when everybody is comfortable, that is the time when our old friend Satan steps in and helps along the evil cause. Then is the time when we are apt to be inert and enjoy the things we have without looking forward into the future and seeing that the evils will grow and ultimately swamp us. It is to the people that we must look for an enforcement of these principles. You should select your representatives and have them know you are watching them in Congress and see that they follow the line of enforcement."

In the language of Uncle Eben, "Satan is represented as runnin' after folks wif a pitchfork, when de truth is dat so many folks is pullin' at his coat-tails dat he ain't got time to chase nobody."

The people should adopt, in the form to platforms, specific rules or the guidance to public officials and then they should select as their public officials men who may be reasonably expected to adhere to the pledges given to the people and conform to the program which the people, through their platform, have provided.

When it develops that men have been elected to public office who have had the habit of "pullin' at Satan's coat-tails," then those men should be retired.

President Taft spoke well when he said that it is to the people we must look for enforcement of great principles and that the people should make their representatives know that their official conduct is being scrutinized. The application of this is that when the people give power to a political party after that party's leaders have led them to believe that they would revise the tariff downward and the pledge is "redeemed" by revising the tariff upward, then the people should drive them from public place and send their party to oblivion.

A Special Interest Administration.

While Mr. Taft is out preaching for policies advocated by special interests the secretary of war is preparing to appear in court as attorney for a great corporation in its suit against the State of Illinois. A Nashville, Tenn., dispatch carried by the Associated Press says:

"A special news dispatch from Chicago says that Secretary of War Dickinson will appear before the Illinois Supreme Court to argue a case for the Illinois Central Railroad Company, for which he was formerly general counsel, and that the State of Illinois is the opposing party to the suit. Judge Dickinson's attending having been called to the matter, he said the suit had already been argued by him in the lower court while general counsel of the Illinois Central road. He said that the suit involved a large amount in taxes to the road, and had required a great amount of detail of preparation. He emphatically declared that no question was involved that in any way affected government regulation of railroads. It was simply a question of accounting under a contract. Secretary Dickinson explained that when offered a position in President Taft's cabinet, he informed the President that he would dissolve absolutely his connection with the railroad company, but told him that at that stage of the suit in question the company could not employ new counsel who would have the familiarity with the case requisite to argue it on appeal and that he did not feel it was right, under such conditions [to abandon the case. The President, Mr. Dickinson said, urged to this view."

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG.

SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of women's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address as above.

Peary's Statement Incredible.

Prof. L. L. Dyche, head of the Department of Natural History of the University of Kansas, who made several trips to the North as a member of both the Peary and Cook exploring parties and who is personally acquainted with the explorers. Wednesday made a statement to the Topeka State Journal concerning Commander Robert E. Peary's statement. Prof. Dyche's statement is in part as follows:

"Commander Peary's statement, published today, to my mind is absolutely incredible. It is based on the testimony of ignorant Eskimos who were incapable of understanding a country to which they had never been before well enough to outline such a map as that published today and credited by Mr. Peary to their explanations. 'Only intelligent white men with instruments could make their way to such a country and be able to report in detail upon it a year after the trip was made.'

"While I believe Commander Peary reached the pole I have not a shadow of doubt that Dr. Cook reached the pole first, and exactly as he details in his own published story.

"The most astonishing part of Commander Peary's story, it seems to me, consists of a statement that Dr. Cook got to the north part of the land bordering on the great Arctic Ocean, the point for which he had striven for a month during the hardships of intense cold and the rigors of Arctic climate, with ample supplies, sleds and Eskimo's all in first class condition, and then simply turned back, apparently no reason.

"How unlikely it is that a man with over twenty years' Arctic experience, fired with an ambition of a lifetime, would give up just at a time and place when one of the greatest trophies the world had to bestow upon a brave and daring explorer was standing within his reach, beckoning him to come on."

Words to Freeze the Soul.

"Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless." These appalling words were spoken to Geo. D. Blevens, a leading merchant of Springfield, N. C., by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderful power of Dr. King's New Discovery. After three weeks use, writes Mr. Blevens, he was as well as ever I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy. Infalible for Coughs and Colds, its the safest, surest cure of desperate Lung diseases on earth. 50c. and $1.00 at Oberdorfer's. Guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free.

Wrecked Magnificent Cathedral.

The magnificent cathedral of Pisa, one of the architectural wonders of Italy, has been wrecked and burned by a mob, infuriated by Ferrer's fate. The priests were maltreated, one being killed.

The famous cathedral of Pisa of which the leaning tower of Pisa was a part, having formerly been the belfry, was designed by Boscetto and Rinaldo, famous Italian architects. It was begun in 1063 and was not completed until 1113. In the centuries that followed Pisa was the scene of many violent wars and much bloodshed.

The design of the cathedral was that of a plain Latin cross with an external length of 311½ feet and a breadth of 232 feet. The nave, 109 feet high, was supported by marble arches.

Swept Over Niagara.

This terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings—growing ripples and faster current—Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "After long suffering from weak kidneys and lame back, one $1.00 bottle wholly cured me," writes J. R. Blakenship, of Belk, Tenn. Only 50c. at Oberdorfer's.

Regarding Family Skeletons.

Here is a little sermon we found in one of our exchanges this week. It is so good that we publish it:

"Every time your neighbors closet is open don't stretch your neck to tell what you saw. Do you ever stop to think that some day tragedy may take up its abode in your home? Can't you get it into your head that some day the tongue of slander may cut you like a poisoned sword and the whisper of neighbors be as vinegar to your wounds? Misfortune and disgrace may have struck your neighbor but it does not become you to get upon the house-tops and shut it out to the world. You will have all you can do to answer for your own indiscretions. Some day one near and dear to you may fall—the prison walls may open to a son or the scarlet letter of eternity may blight a daughter. When a home is mourning over a tragedy, the best thing you can do is to keep your mouth shut, unless you can say something that will come as a rift in the clouds. Then again, you know, you may be no better than your neighbor. The only difference is that they were caught, and you, up to date, have kept sunlight away. Be charitable to your neighbor as you know not the hour nor the day when the light will appear in your sacred circle."

Mild Laxative for Baby Free

The child of today is the parent of the future, and whether it grows up healthy and strong, or puny and weak, depends upon the intelligence of its parents, for most children are born into the world healthy, but thousands become future weaklings between birth and the age of ten, when the parents are still in greatest control.

The prime cause of trouble is in the stomach. A baby that is digesting its food seldom cries and always looks cheerful; the little child whose stomach is good romps and plays and never whines; the growing child learns well at school and is eager for fun if its head is clear and its stomach light, and that means it has no constipation.

The best and safest way to cure any irregularity of the stomach and bowels in children is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a liquid laxative wonderful in its effect as Mrs. John W. Dunham, Apple Creek, O., Mrs. H. L. Cullam, Plainville, Ind., and numerous others can testify who give it to their children with extraordinary results.

A bottle only costs 50 cents or $1 according to the size you want, and even one 50-cent bottle will do a wonderful amount of good in a family. It can be given to any member of the family in constipation, sour stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, dyspepsia, heartburn, sick headache and similar digestive troubles. It never gripes or strangles like pills, tablets, salts and powders, which should not be given to children, women or old folks.

If you have a child or other member of the family who needs, but has never used this grand laxative tonic, send your name and address to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent to your home. In this way you can find out what it will do without personal expense.

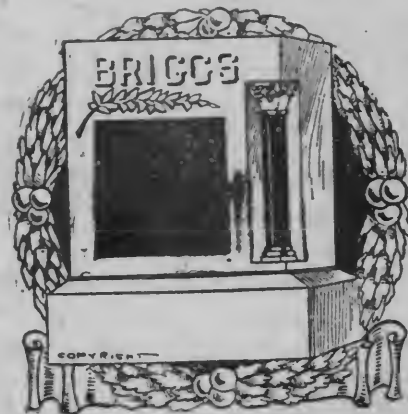

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Eggs $2.00 a Dozen.

Two car loads of eggs sent from Tampa, Fla., to Cuba to take advantage of the almost prohibitive price charged for the product there were stopped at Knight's Key at the time of the recent storm and being blocked from shipment, were confiscated by the railroad by the railroad authorities and turned over to the several thousand workmen, who had lost all of their supplies. Eggs are now selling at $2 per dozen in Cuba.

Negative Virtues.

Beware of making your moral stable consist of the negative virtues. It is good to abstain, and teach others to abstain, from all that is sinful or hurtful. But making a business of it leads to emaciation of character, unless one feeds largely also on the more nutritious diet of active sympathetic benevolence.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

W.B. Reduso CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduso No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides, also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduso No. 772 for large short women, is the same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-subsiding" models from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.

The Burley Tobacco Pool.

As the time for closing the Burley Tobacco pool for the 1909 crop is drawing near, and feeling that the matter is of vital interest to Bourbon county growers who have not entered the pool, we publish the following extracts of letters from the press committee to the newspapers of the Burley District, viz:

"That the growers, the community and county in which they live, as well as every business interest of the State have been greatly benefitted by the growers' organization, you must admit.

"That the 1909 pool is a still greater benefit and a more complete success is evidenced by the price at which tobacco outside of the pool being bought by the independent manufacturers, commission warehouse companies and speculators. It is positive assurance that the Burley Tobacco Society, backed as it is by at least sixty per cent of the growers of Burley tobacco, is now in position to demand and receive fair and remunerative prices for the tobacco owned by its members.

"The average price of 14 to 15 cents per pound now being paid for unpooled tobacco is in itself an admission that the growers in the Burley pool are in a position to sell their tobacco at a substantial advance over the prices named for unpooled tobacco.

"Would a speculator pay 15 cents per pound for tobacco in the barn—tobacco not yet cured and in some cases tobacco he has never seen—if he were not fully convinced that the Burley Tobacco Society pool would enable him to sell at an advanced price?

"Would a manufacturer pay the same price for individual crops if he were not sure that he would be compelled to pay more for the pooled tobacco later on?

"Just how much more he will have to pay for the pooled tobacco depends entirely upon the length of time the purchase of the pooled tobacco is delayed.

"No specified price has been set on the pooled tobacco. It is in the hands of the Burley Tobacco Society to sell 'to the best advantage.' The price of pooled tobacco will be governed by the price set by trade on outside tobacco. "It is evident that the trust considers 15c per pound a smaller price than it will have to pay for pooled tobacco, otherwise it would not touch it, for there is no doubt but that every pound of tobacco produced in 1909 will be needed by the manufacturers before another crop is grown. The Burley Tobacco Society has the advantage of knowing his condition to exist.

"You also know that with the large crop grown this year, were it not for the pool of the Burley Tobacco Society, the cry of 'overproduction' would put the priced own to less than 8 cents per pound, for have not the independent manufacturers, in their suits against the Burley Tobacco Society, asked the United States Courts to rule that Burley tobacco is worth only 8 cents, and that any sum above that price is 'excessive charge'.

"The larger portion of the credit for the success of the pool, next to the farmers themselves, is due the loyalty of the country press in the Burley District.

Every acre of tobacco pooled before the 20th instant exerts a double strength in that it takes from the enemy and adds to the struggling masses

"May we not depend upon your loyal support and best efforts during these closing days when your support means so much for the uplifting of the people?"

Pittsburg Wins World Championship.

Pittsburg won the world's baseball championship Saturday by overwhelming Detroit by the score of 8 to 0 in the seventh and decisive game of one of the hardest world's series ever fought. This was the third successive time Detroit has been defeated in the world's championship series, and consequently the third straight victory for the National League, the Chicago Nationals having won the title in 1907 and 1908. To Charles Adams, a former Louisville pitcher, belongs the major portion of the credit for winning the series. The receipts for these series of seven games was $188,302.50; attendance for series 154,444. Each of the twenty-three Pirates will receive $2,007 for their nine days' work, while each of the twenty Tigers will get $2,833 which is not bad for a consolation prize.

MATRIMONIAL.

—The wedding of Miss Leslie Manning Turney and Mr. Lew W. Taylor, will be solemnized tomorrow (Wednesday) evening at 6:30 o'clock, at "Breezy Heights," the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Turney, near this city, the Rev. B. M. Shive to officiate. After the ceremony the bridal reception and supper will take place. The following composing the bridal party: Mr. and Mrs. Taylor the bride and bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Bell, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Arnold, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Withers Davis, Misses Frances Shallenberger, Pittsburg, Pa.; Florence Lockhart, Edna Turney, Edna Earl Hinton, Lucile Bell, Nicholasville; Janie Marsh, Mary Woodford and Messrs. James Woodford, Amos Turney, Jr., Jack Turney, William Taylor, James Buckner, Carl Wilmoth, and John Davis.

—Miss Kathryn Beatrice Lenihan and Mr. William Joseph Dodd were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the Catholic church, in this city, at an early hour this morning, Rev. Father DeBruyn officiating.

The bride is the handsome and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lenihan, and one of Paris' most popular young women, while the groom is one of Lexington's leading business men, being member of the wholesale grocery firm of Dodd & Sullivan. We congratulate the groom on winning this lovely young woman for his life partner.

The happy couple left after the ceremony for Lexington, where they boarded the fast C. & O. train for a bridal trip to the Eastern cities, and will be at home, in Lexington, after November 15.

Old Paris Boy Makes Good.

The Mexican Herald, published in the City of Mexico, gives a lengthy laudatory review of an 824 page book soon to be issued by Phillip G. Terry, a former Paris boy, who is now a citizen of Mexico. The work will be one of the most extensive and complete guide books ever published of any country. The maps are said by the Herald to be more complete than the railroad maps of Mexico. The work represents five years of arduous labor on the part of Mr. Terry and an enormous outlay of money. In order to make his book absolutely accurate Mr. Terry visited every point in Mexico referred to by him and personally proved every fact used. Several years ago he issued a grammar of the Spanish language that has become a text book not only in Mexico but in other Spanish American countries, and which recently passed its 12th edition of 645,000 copies.

Mr. Terry recently visited his mother and sisters in this city, and his numerous old schoolmates and friends will be glad to hear of his successful career since leaving Paris.

SWINGING THE ARMS.

The Habit a Relic of the Time When Man Went on All Fours.

Sir Victor Horsley, lecturing before the Medical Society of London, explained our habit of swinging the arms when walking, which he stated was quite unnecessary, as a relic of the days when we walked on all fours.
Then we had to use arms as well as legs. Although their use serves no purpose when walking upright, we still keep on moving all four limbs alternately or in progression. Sir Victor set forth some new facts concerning the functions of the cerebellum,
the mysterious and little understood hind part of the brain.

"Primarily the cerebellum must be regarded," said the lecturer, "as a sensory organ which has an important part in the correct performance of many of our automatic actions. Walking, standing and running are good examples of such actions, which cannot be accurately carried out without a normal, well balanced cerebellum.
Newborn animals cannot stand. They sprawl, and before they can stand, walk or run they must acquire this power. For convenience in life this ability to stand must be secured without the animal having consciously to think what he is doing. The fully developed cerebellum supplies this power unconsciously."

In proof of this Sir Victor pointed out that the cerebellum of a full grown cat showed fully developed cells and fibers, whereas in newborn kittens the brain in the cerebellar portion is not yet organized into active nerve tissues.—New York Times.

DIVING BELL SPIDERS.

Gathering Air For Use in Working Under Water.

The diving bell spiders gather air to use just as a soldier might draw water and dispose it about his person in water bottles. They do this in two ways, one of which is characteristic of many of the creatures which live both in and out of the water, as the spider does. The tail of the spider is covered with black, velvety hair. Putting its tail out of the water, it collects much air in the interstices of the velvet. It then descends, when all this air drawn down beneath the surface collects into a single bubble, covering its tail and breathing holes like a coat of quicksilver. This supply the spider uses up when at work below until it dwindles to a single speck, when it once more ascends and collects a fresh store.

The writer has seen one of these spiders spin so many webs across the stems of water plants in a limited space that not only the small water shrimps and larvae, but even a young fish, were entangled. The other and more artistic means of gathering air employed by the spider is to catch a bubble on the surface and swim below with it. The bubble is then let go into a bell woven under some plant, into which many other bubbles have been drawn. In this diving bell the eggs are laid and the young hatched under the constant watch of the old spider.

How Turner Painted.

If we are to believe Thornbury, the wonderful "Burning of the House of Lords and Commons" was almost entirely painted after the canvas was hung on the walls of the Royal academy. So certain was Turner of himself at that period that he would send to the exhibition just a laid in sketch, trusting entirely to vanishing days to complete the scheme. He would arrive at the academy as early as 4 o'clock in the morning and be among the last to leave in the evening.

Unlike Lawrence, who had to step back constantly to judge of effects, Turner would work, so to say, with his nose to the canvas. When Lord Hill at too close quarters looked at the houses of parliament picture he condemned it as "nothing but dabs." Catching its magical effect from a just distance, however, he exclaimed enthusiastically: "Painting! God bless me! So it is!" According to Thornbury, Turner made a number of sketches of the fire, but produced two pictures only.—London News.

Stolen Place Names.

There are many stolen place names outside Lancashire, the most flagrant instance of theft being afforded by Etruria, in Staffordshire, which an-nexed this name because Wedgwood's copies of Etruscan pottery were manufactured there. Then in Wales we find Bethesda and Hebron, and in Scotland Joppa, Alexandria and Porto-bello. Valencia, off the Irish coast, is named after the Spanish town, but this is hardly a case of theft, as the Spaniards themselves bestowed the name

A "Girlcott" On.

Concerning the reported movement of the ladies of Winchester and Clark county to boycott Lexington business men, the Ashland Tribune remarks:

"Going it upon that ancient and inspired saying, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth,' it is said that the women of Clark county, including Winchester town, have organized what might be called, purely and simply, a boycott against the merchants and manufacturers of Lexington. The announcement is made and the edict has gone forth that none of their money shall find its way into the coffers of the Blue Grass City, but when they want anything that they cannot purchase at home Cincinnati and Louisville are to be the beneficiaries of their partonage. Remember, it is the women who are alleged to be behind the movement, though the men are probably silent partners in the case."

"Should there be a prosecution under the Sherman law it is believed that no conviction will be made as the deendants would really show that the move was not a 'boycott' but a 'girlcott,' about which all the civil statutes are silent."

Now, let us give you a tip—if Winchester can't furnish you with what you want, girls, come down to Paris and visit our large and up-to-date store you will find the very thing without visiting either Cincinnati or Louisville. The Paris merchants carry the stock and remember we are your closest neighbors and fought for the Burley headquarters to remain in Winchester.

Corn is King.

American farmers are about to husk
and put into their granaries $1,500,- 000,000 worth of corn. While not the very biggest, this is among the banner crops ever grown. Corn is distinctly American. Wheat and rye grow all around the world above and below the equator. As long ago as Joseph's day in ancient Egypt wheat cut an important figure in any man's destiny. But corn is modern so far as the white man knows of it and it is American. With the potato and tobacco it is one of our debts to the Indians.

True, some "maize" is cultivated in other lands, but nowhere else except perhaps in Argentina does it constitute an important part of any country's product.

Pile all the cotton and wheat in one grand heap and they will only equal the value of our corn. As it requires less than 150 days to plant, grow and mature this crop, it will be seen that since May 1 last year each day has contributed about $10,000,000 to the production of wealth that never existed before.

The Indian can afford to have his head taken from the American center. He has given his fame to the world's premier harvest and to this country's source of great wealth.

Judge Lindsay Passes Away.

Conscious and in full possession of his remarkable faculties until almost the very end, Judge William Lindsay, former United States Senator from Kentucky, and one of the brainiest and biggest lawyers in the United States, died Friday morning, at his home in Frankfort, his last act being one of kindness and showing consideration for others.

Just before he died Senator Lindsay said to his nurse, who was with him:
"Miss Nelson, you are tired and worn out and need sleep I know. I am getting along all right and I want you to leave me and go to bed and get some sleep."

Miss Nelson felt Senator Lindsay's pulse and found that it was barely beating. She saw that death was near and hastily called the members of the family, who reached the patient's bedside in time to speak to him before he died. His funeral was held at his residence Sunday afternoon at 2:30 followed by interment in Frankfort cemetery.

BROKE IT GENTLY.

The Reason the Brakeman Quit Railroad For Awhile.

Danny Wilkenth was a brakeman. One day while his train was on a side-track at a town in Ohio another train that was doing some switching on the same track suddenly bumped into the caboose on the rear platform of which Danny was standing, and he was severely bruised. He was taken to a local hospital, where it was found that his injuries were so serious as to necessitate his remaining several weeks for treatment. At the end of a month he surprised his mother at her home in Pittsburgh by walking into the house on crutches.

"Why, Danny," she exclaimed, "what is the matter? What has happened to you?"

"Why, I wrote and told you, mother," he answered with a grin.
"No, son, you didn't. All you wrote was that you were going to quit rail-roading for awhile, that you had found something else to do and that it was an indoor job. You didn't say a word about getting hurt or anything of that kind."

"I surely did, mother. I told you what happened to me."

"You surely didn't!"

"How did I say I came to be staying in that town?"

"You said you happened to be caught there between trains."

"Well, I was."—Youth's Companion.

OUR MILLIONAIRES.

American Money Kings From a German Point of View.

In a satirical article entitled "The Natural History of American Millionaires" a writer in the Berliner Tageblatt says: "They all came to New York, Chicago or Philadelphia with one shirt and with one cent in the pocket of the only other garment. All served as bootblacks, errand boys or even in more humble positions and in the second week had saved enough to buy a waistcoat. After one month they appeared before their respective employers clad in new clothes and told them with imposing self confidence that the organization of their business was defective and required reorganization. A year later the boy has become a partner, in two years he has outstripped the former boss in wealth, and a year later he has grown smart enough to kill off the benefactor of other days. All American millionaires arise at 3 in the morning, eat and drink almost nothing, cease their work at midnight and allow only those to live whom they think are good enough to invite. Every dollar king founds a university, an opera, a museum or a picture gallery. Life becomes a burden to them when there are no more competitors in their branch worthy of destruction. Then they lie down and die of ennui."

Almost Heavenly.

"That is Saturn you see now," explains the astronomer, while the visitor to the observatory peers through the telescope at the mysterious orb with its rings and with its moons showing as little points of light.

"It's away off, isn't it?" asks the visitor.

"Oh, yes. Saturn is so far off that it requires thirty of our years to make the circuit around the sun."

"Thirty years?"

"Yes."

"My! Saturn must be pretty close to heaven."

"I couldn't say as to that."

"I should call it almost heavenly not to have to buy spring dresses and hats for my wife and daughters not more than once in thirty years."

For fear the visitor would have something to say about the summer engagements on Saturn being responsible for the rings, the astronomer quickly pointed the telescope toward Jupiter.—Chicago Post.

Doing a Man's Work.

The Widow Skinner has been twice bereaved, and she was telling me about her two husbands over a cup of tea.

"Boggs was the first," she said dreamily, "a ornery bound wot used to git drunk and come home and lam-baste me all over the place. Arter Boggs died I married Skinner. He was a good for nothin', ornery critter wot 'ud turn up full, and I'd lam him till he couldn't see."

She chuckled with quiet amusement.

"Well," said a listener, "the last was better than the first, at least."

But the widow shook her head.

"No, 'twasn't," she said. "I'd kinder got used to Boggs' little ways, and in Skinner's case I never cottoned to the idea of doin' a man's work about the house."—Exchange.

Drifted Into It.

"Yes, I've managed to get into debt pretty deeply," said Kayriss.

"Indeed," remarked Wise. "I gave you credit for more sense than you seem to have."

"H'm! The trouble was that my tailor gave me credit for more dollars than I seem to have," said Kayriss.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Nothing to Offer.

"Have you," asked the judge of a recently convicted man, "anything to offer the court before sentence is passed?"

"No, your honor," replied the prisoner. "My lawyer took my last farthing."

Wise Poets.

"Do poets ever write poems in their letters to their sweethearts?" asked the sweet young thing.

"No," replied the near famous bard.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—Keep the manure pit outside of the stable, so it will not contaminate the air.

—Give the horses genuine rest on Sundays and holidays by giving them extra feed and attention.

—Do not be in a hurry to shoe the horses unless they are to go on the road. Let them go unshod until the ground freezes.

—A sheep with its wool with water will suffer as much on a chilly day as a man with a rain-soaked overcoat.

—Thos. McClintock, of Millersburg, sold to James T. Tate & Son, of Shawhan, eight mule colts for $760 and bought four mules in Bath county. He also sold four mules to Charles Thompson of Lexington, for $670.

—Hog cholera costs the farmers of the Farmers of the United States $40,000,000 annually, according to estimates presented at the closing session of the Inter-state Association State Boards of Live Stock Commissioners at Chicago.

—At Carlisle H. M. Taylor sold to Henry Bros. one fancy mule for $97.50. The latter shortly afterwards sold the animal for $100. Mr. Taylor also sold to W. W. Haley, of Clintonville, sixteen head of fancy two-year-old cattle that averaged 1,200, at 4¢ cent per pound.

—To those people who are land poor, or who are burdened with poor land we give them a helpful hint. It has all been figured out by an expert: Two thousand four hundred locust trees can be planted on an acre; in eight years they will be large enough to cut for fence posts, each tree will yield two posts these posts can readily be sold at 25 cents each. Grand total $200 for eight years on one acre, or an average of $150 a year.

—Edward Baumeister, of Louisville, widely known throughout Kentucky as "Cherokee Ed," has purchased for the Columbia Trust Company a fine farm near Lebanon. The place contains 530 acres, and the price paid was between $25,000 and $30,000. Many who have heard of the deal are wondering if Baumeister will use the farm for wintering his menagerie, or whether he has made the purchase as an investment.

—Imp. St. Blaise, one of the most famous stallions in the world, is dead at August Belmont's nursery, in Fayette county. His death followed closely that of Ben Strome, another famous horse, who died Thursday. St. Blaise won the English Derby.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Little Willie Knew.

Little Willie, the son of a German town woman, was playing one day with the girl next door when the latter exclaimed:

"Don't you hear your mother calling you? That's three times she's done so. Aren't you going in?"

"Not yet," responded Willie imper-turbably.

"Won't she whip you?" demanded the little girl, awed.

"Naw!" exclaimed Willie in disgust. "She ain't goin' to whip nobody! She's got company. So, when I go in, she'll just say, 'The poor little man has been so deaf since he's had the measles.'"—Lippincott's.

Fully Appreciated.

Raymond, aged five, returned from Sunday school in a state of evident excitement. He strutted around the room as if about to burst with importance. The sympathetic eye of his mother was not slow to observe this.

"What's the matter, Raymond?" she asked.

"Oh, mother," exclaimed the small boy, his eyes sparkling, "the superintendent said something awful nice about me in his prayer this morning."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'O Lord, we thank thee for food and for Raymond.'"—Woman's Home Companion.

A Strong Guarantee.

"Are you sure these eggs are fresh?" asked the woman, eyeing them suspiciously.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the grocer, with emphasis. "I guarantee those eggs. If any of them aren't good I'll make 'em good!"—Lippincott's.

Work of Terrific Storm.

Forty-seven lives are known to have been lost and unconfirmed reports indicate that others were killed in the terrific storm that struck Middle and West Tennessee, Georgia, and Alabama Thursday. Wires are down at many points and the extent of the damage cannot be fully ascertained. The property loss will run into the millions.

An Important Decision.

The Court of Appeals reversed the Franklin Circuit Court in the James, Auditor, against Blanton and others, holding that the Commonwealth, by a tax sale, when the State is the purchaser, acquires a fee simple title to the land and not a mere lien on it when it is not redeemed within two years after the sale, and action to recover may be brought within fifteen years after the title vested in the State. The court further holds that the fee simple title vested in the state is subject to be divested on the payment of the taxes by the delinquent, and if the taxes are paid the title reverts in the owner; it is only where the land has been sold by a revenue agent that the Auditor may convey it by deed. The decision is of wide importance and will be a great revenue producer.

Established Precedents Broken.

Two long established precedents were broken Saturday when President Taft and Diaz met at El Paso, Texas, and Juarez, Mexico. For the first time in the history of the United States a President set foot upon the territory of another nation and for the first time the ruler of another nation set foot on the soil of the United States. The meeting was marked by the exchange of expressions of mutual regard and both of the executives spoke of the occasion as being typical of the bonds uniting the sister republics. The one incident marring the day was the killing of one schoolboy by another in a fight resulting from their efforts to approach nearer President Taft.

Johnson Wins Championship.

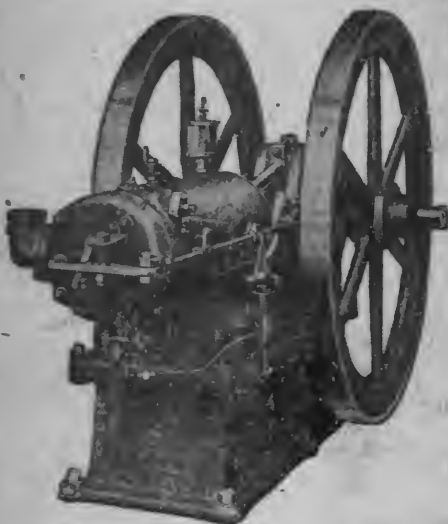

Jack Johnson, the Negro pugilist, retained the world heavyweight championship Saturday by knocking out Stanley Ketchel, in the twelfth round at Colma, Cal. The fight was hot from start to finish and the negro was badly punished before disposing of his lighter opponent. The receipts were over $40,000.
